St Simons Island, Georgia

Rated one of the most romantic places in America, St. Simons Island, Georgia, has white sandy beaches to watch the sun and stately live oak trees draped in Spanish moss.

The island, one of Georgia's golden isles, has a strict building code, with limits on building height, to preserve the natural beauty of this place.

Couples can enjoy a romantic picnic for two on the beach or in one of the many parks.

Rent bikes to slow down and explore the island's nooks and crannies along bike trails that meander through the live oak trees. Browse for antiques and coastal collectibles in the quaint shopping districts on the island.

Climb to the top of the St. Simons Lighthouse for panoramic views of the coast or visit historic Christ Church grounds. A sunset dolphin cruise on the coast is a great way to cap off a day of exploring.

St. Simons Island is home to many locally-owned restaurants, each with its flair, and two stand out for romance. With a soft, coastal decor, the Georgia Sea Grill serves unique dishes prepared with locally sourced ingredients.

Meanwhile, Echo, at the King and Prince Resort, serves low country dishes with a creative twist at its oceanfront restaurant. Book a table outdoors just before the sunset for a truly romantic dinner.

It's easy to see why St. Simons Island, with its historic charm, relaxed pace, and beautiful sea views, is considered one of the most romantic towns in America.

Where to stay in St Simons Island?

King and Prince Resort – This resort is the only oceanfront resort on St. Simons Island. The rooms are luxurious, with views overlooking the beach where you can see the sunrise and set.

Oceanfront pools, the spa, old fashioned swings overlooking the beach, a cozy bar, and an oceanfront restaurant add to its romantic vibe. But, what makes it truly special is the attentive staff.

They go above and beyond to meet your every need and make you feel like royalty.
